

Confidence without Compromise

What Your Firm Avoids, Preserves, Maintains, & Gains with Milana

As a CompuLaw client, your firm already trusts the gold standard in court rules. Unlike third-party solutions, Milana is built within the Aderant ecosystem, extending that same reliability to the cloud.

Avoid disconnected events and data risk. Preserve the rule relationships and exclusions you rely on. Maintain the trusted accuracy of CompuLaw's rules foundation. Gain modern, cloud-driven advantages that elevate your firm's docketing performance.

What You Avoid with Milana: Orphaned Events

Migrating to a non-Aderant docketing solution severs the connection between your events and their court rules, with no recalculation capability.

- Events become manual, standalone entries: That can result in thousands or even millions of unlinked calendar entries for high-volume firms.
- Continued deadlines must be adjusted manually: Manual adjustments increase the risk of miscalculations, potential missed deadlines, and added administrative burden.

What You Preserve with Milana: Court Rule Relationships

Milana safeguards every relationship between your existing events and their underlying court rules during migration.

- Events stay linked to their rule formulas: No manual reattachment is required.
- Events adjust automatically for continued deadlines: Automatic adjustments prevent human error and free your team to focus on higher-value work.

What You Preserve with Milana: Court Rule Exclusions

Milana also retains all CompuLaw exclusions, allowing your firm to control which deadlines apply to each matter.

- All current exclusion selections remain intact: They remain completely unaffected by the migration process.
- Docketing teams continue operating seamlessly: No need to reselect exclusions across your extensive library.
- Attorney calendars stay clutter free: Attorneys spend less time filtering irrelevant entries, improving focus and productivity.

Examples of unaffected exclusions include:

- Case-specific exclusions (e.g., medical malpractice only)
- Division-specific deadlines (e.g., Northern Division only)
- Timekeeper preferences
- Service method deadlines (e.g., mail, fax)
- Telephonic appearance deadlines

What You Maintain with Milana: Firm-Defined Rules

Milana maintains your firm's ability to define and automate critical deadlines beyond court rules. Custom Rules ensure the workflows and processes your team relies on remain structured, consistent, and enforceable.

- Consistent execution of internal and client-driven timelines: Key milestones are applied systematically across matters, reducing variability and improving coordination across teams.
