

Introducing Milana: The Gold Standard of Docketing

You already face enough pressure in a fast-paced law firm. The last thing you need is inefficient, non-compliant calendar management that creates risks for your business and increases stress for your attorneys.

Enter Milana, the industry's most comprehensive rules-based docketing and calendar management solution. Our cloud-based software will help your firm minimize its risk of missing critical deadlines, create and automate efficient docketing processes, and empower your attorneys to stay on top of their upcoming events across busy caseloads.

The Challenges of Manual Calendar Management at Your Law Firm

Business Risks

Exposure to Malpractice Lawsuits

Calendar-related errors are a significant potential cause of legal malpractice claims.

Strained Client Relationships

Just one missed deadline can negatively influence a client relationship your firm took years to develop.

Damaged Firm Reputation

Poor client experiences caused by calendar-related issues can create a negative firm perception that limits your ability to win new business.

Impacted Insurance Coverage

Lawsuits stemming from calendar mismanagement can impact a firm's malpractice insurance coverage.

Workflow Inefficiencies

Misuse of Firm Resources

Manual calendar management requires extra time and resources your firm could allocate towards other responsibilities.

Unstructured Processes

A lack of centralized workflows prevents standard and consistent data capture, processing and distribution of legal calendar information.

Can't Keep Pace with Business Demand

Without a rules-based calendar solution, firms can't improve productivity and suffer from a major backlog of calendar requests.

Limited Knowledge Management

Dispersed and non-centralized case data across the firm can be difficult to surface for business development, marketing, and auditing purposes.

A New Path Forward: Milana's Cloud-Based Docketing Technology

Milana's rules-based docketing solution provides protection from malpractice risk by automating and streamlining key processes. Our software delivers a modern and centralized digital calendar management experience for law firms.
